REVOLUTION IS BEING PLANNED

Salt Lake, Jan. 4.—Revolutionary strife in Mexico is not at an end, and within thirteen days Obregon, commander of the Carranza forces in the north, will begin a gigantic movement to overthrow Carranza. This is the belief of officers of the vanquished Villa forces, who have taken refuge in Arizona, according to James D. Barry, an attorney of the Nogales, Ariz., who arrived in Salt Lake yesterday, and who will spend several days here before his return. He is a guest at the Hotel Utah.

These refugee Villistas also express the opinion, says Mr. Barry, that Obregon will first visit Mexico City in an effort to induce Carranza, commander of Carranza's southern forces, to join in the revolution, but if he fails in this, they declare Obregon will sever relations with Carranza and proceed alone.

Coming to a head. "That a new revolution would be about before fifteen days had elapsed was told me by a former colonel of Villa's army, said Mr. Barry. "I am not at liberty to give his name, but he told me that the movement had already been outlined and that the first blow would probably be dealt in Chihuahua. He predicted that at the end of six months Obregon will have accomplished the downfall of the Carranza government."

Carranza is quite unpopular among Americans along the border, according to Mr. Barry, and the administration has been severely criticized for its action in extending recognition to his government. He also states that while many persons are strongly in favor of intervention others declare the result of such action would not justify the cost in life and money.

Obregon is, perhaps, the most popular leader in Mexico, says Mr. Barry, who describes him as an excellent soldier, with considerable administrative ability. He says Obregon is of the higher type of Mexican, that his ideas are decidedly American, that he speaks English fairly well and that whenever he has taken a city, instead of having tried to deal out revenge, he has treated the people squarely and has attempted to encourage industry and thrift.

"Villa has announced that he has fired his last shot and he is probably somewhere in Chihuahua," said Mr. Barry. "He has instructed his generals to surrender under the best terms they can get. As soon as he can he will probably leave Mexico and find refuge in some other country."

Mr. Barry is an eye-witness of the recent battle at Sonora, just across the line from Nogales, and he asserts that forty-one Mexicans and Yaquis were killed by American troops after they had fired across the line. He says he never saw such a jubilant band of Americans in his life as were the people of Nogales when the United States soldiers opened fire on the Mexicans.

FIGHT ON RABIES IS TO BE AIDED BY THIS STATE

Salt Lake, Jan. 4.—Governor William Spry yesterday appointed a special committee to take charge of the fight against hydrophobia among coyotes and other animals in this state.

There were reports yesterday that the infection of coyotes with rabies had spread to Utah, but there was no confirmation of them. The governor's committee met immediately upon appointment and announced the first steps in the campaign of precaution, as follows:

"All county commissioners will be asked to pass ordinances requiring the licensing of all dogs and providing that all dogs not licensed within thirty days shall be killed."

"Requesting the state fish and game commissioners to issue an order calling upon all the deputy wardens in the state to all in the eradication of coyotes, the spreaders of the epidemic."

"Requesting the state board of sheep commissioners to enlist all the sheep inspectors in the killing of coyotes, and requesting similar co-operation from the inspectors and deputies of the state livestock board and the state board of health."

"Asking of the United States biological survey to use its hunters on the western border of Utah to assist in preventing rabid coyotes from Nevada from entering this state."

Governor Spry appointed this special committee from the group of state officials, federal officials and sheep and cattle owners who have been conferring with him for nearly a week on the rabies question. This group met with him yesterday afternoon at the governor's conference room at the capitol. The following comprise the special committee:

Dr. T. B. Beatty, state health commissioner, chairman, State Fish and Game Commissioner Fred W. Chambers, State Livestock Inspector A. C. Young, C. B. Stewart, secretary of the Utah Woolgrowers' association, and Edward C. Parsons, representing the cattle interests of the state.

Telegram From Blue.

It was announced by Dr. Beatty that he had received a telegram from Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service, saying that he would be glad to make the proposed conference in Salt Lake of health commissioners and other officials from the surrounding states the official one of the public health service. The department would so petition his department.

Dr. Beatty got into communication with the other states which have accepted invitations to meet here for a discussion of the rabies epidemic, so there is no question now but what a big conference on the question, under the direction of the United States public health service, will be held in Salt Lake from January 12 to 15, during the convention here of the National Woolgrowers' association.

Surgeon General Blue intimated to Dr. Beatty that he himself would attend the meetings.

Three federal officials who were at yesterday's meeting in the governor's office said their departments were ready to assist in the fight on coyotes and mad dogs. They were J. H. McCain of the forestry service, Dr. F. E. Murray of the bureau of animal industry, and J. R. Holman of the biological survey.

The federal officials said they had received reports indicating that the rabies situation in Idaho was more serious than has been reported. Mad coyotes are running amuck and in several sections, it was reported, and children are being escorted to school by armed men, ready to protect them from the attacks of stricken animals.

Governor Spry read to the meeting telegrams from Utah members of congress saying that had begun their efforts for federal aid in eradicating the mad dogs.

The special committee adjourned to meet again at the call of the chairman. Mr. Beatty said he would call another meeting in a few days.

INFLUENZA OVER ENTIRE NATION

Washington, Jan. 3.—Influenza is spreading from coast to coast in the most serious epidemic ever known, taking a large toll in lives and causing economic loss by incapacitating workers in all walks of life. Reports from public health service officers made tonight by Surgeon General Blue show that already the disease has created a grave problem for many of the larger cities, and is spreading to the rural communities.

New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Seattle, Cleveland and Detroit reported the disease widely prevalent. Cleveland and Detroit each have probably 100,000 cases. Off the larger cities Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, San Diego, Dallas and Mobile reported no signs of an epidemic.

There is practically nothing the federal government can do toward aiding in suppression of an epidemic. It must be dealt with by local authorities, and they, in turn, it is explained, are almost helpless without co-operation from the public. Surgeon Blue said tonight he had called for reports from all parts of the country with the hope that publicity would tend to stimulate this co-operation.

BOY-ED ON OCEAN WITHOUT U. S. GIRL

San Francisco—Epidemic of influenza widespread and severe. Reported as the most severe experienced since 1891.

Los Angeles—Extended epidemic of influenza of moderate severity began about two months ago and not diminished.

San Diego—Few cases of influenza reported recently.

Dallas—Influenza not epidemic. Moderate number of cases.

Portland, Ore.—No epidemic. A few severe cases.

Seattle—There have been between 30,000 and 50,000 cases of influenza in Seattle within the last thirty days, according to an estimate made tonight by Dr. B. J. Lloyd of the United States public health service. The death rate in December showed an increase to 15 per cent over December, 1914. Of 387 deaths reported in December, 32 were caused by pneumonia which Dr. Lloyd classed as a complication of influenza.

M'NEELY NOT ONE OF THE SURVIVORS

London, Jan. 3, 10:13 p. m.—The Peninsular & Oriental company has received a dispatch from Malta saying that eleven more survivors of the steamer Persia have been landed, including Lord Montague.

Robert M. McNeely, the American consul at Aden, was not among the survivors landed at Malta. The Peninsular & Oriental company says the survivors consist of three English, one Italian and seven Lascars.

A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Gibraltar, says Edward Rose, the Denver, Colo., lad who was a passenger on board the steamer Persia, left the Persia when she put in at Gibraltar and started immediately for Spain.

Washington, Jan. 3.—President Wilson started to Washington from Hot Springs, Va., tonight to take personal charge of the nation's foreign affairs in the new crisis brought about by the sinking of the British steamship Persia with a loss of at least one American life. The situation is regarded in official circles as being the most serious to confront this government since the submarine operations of the central powers began.

INDIAN PRINCE IS IN TOUGH LUCK

London, Jan. 3.—The suite of his royal highness, Jagatjit Singh, Maharajah of Kapurthala, were passengers on the steamship Persia, which has been sunk on its way to Bombay.

A dispatch from Carlo states that the maharajah's famous jewels, worth $4,000,000, were lost with the ship, but gives no further indication of the fate of the members of his party.

With the maharajah's party when he arrived in England from New York, in August last, was Miss Margaret Cullen, a young American woman had met in a western city and induced to accompany them to India.

The maharajah was waiting at Port Said to join the ship and continue his journey to India, accompanied by his suite. It is assumed that his wife, who was formerly Anita Delgado, a Spanish dancing girl, was waiting with him at Port Said and that Miss Cullen was with them.

His royal highness is having an exciting trip back to India. When he sailed from New York on the steamship Rotterdam last August, the greatest secrecy was observed, and not until the Rotterdam arrived at Falmouth was it made known that he was on board. He feared that on account of his great wealth and the aid which he had lent to the English cause the Germans would make a special effort to capture him or sink his ship. A British cruiser met the Rotterdam off Falmouth and conveyed it through the mine field.

AEROPLANES FOR AMBULANCE WORK

French Send Sick Men by Air From Prisrend to Scutari—Impossible to Use Stretchers.

Paris, Jan. 3, 4:45 a. m.—Aeroplanes were used for ambulance work for the first time on record during the retreat from Serbia by the French military expedition, says Henri Barbey, a war correspondent of the Journal.

The Balkan mission was at Pristina. There were a number of sick persons. It was impossible to carry them on stretchers, but it was determined not to abandon them.

The French still has six aeroplanes. They had been exposed to rain and snow for two months but were still in working order. Colonel Fournier placed on these aeroplanes the sick men who condition was most grave and sent them by air to Scutari.

WILSON TO NAME A NEW JUSTICE

Vacancy Caused by Death of Associate Justice Lamar to Be Filled at Once.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Arrangements are being made today for the funeral of Joseph Rucker Lamar, associate justice of the supreme court, who died at his home here last night of gradual heart failure.

Following custom, the court after meeting today adjourned immediately in respect to the memory of the late justice.

Burial will be at Augusta, Ga. It was believed here today that because of the important cases now awaiting consideration before a full court, President Wilson will make an appointment at once to fill the vacancy caused by Justice Lamar's death.

Last fall when Justice Lamar's health became impaired and when a movement was started to retire him on full pay, Secretary of the Interior Lane and Solicitor-General John W. Davies were mentioned in discussions as his possible successors.

HEAVY SNOWS STOP TRAFFIC

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—Transcontinental traffic from the Pacific coast was reported moving steadily tonight despite a storm which swept the Pacific coast. The coast guard cutter Snohomish, which lost her way and ran ashore in Puget sound, snowed, floated off at high tide and proceeded undamaged. The western part of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad's Cascade tunnel showed 95 inches of snow with 112 inches on the eastern slope. Eight inches covered the ground in Seattle.

Twenty-five persons in Oakland, Cal., were taken from their homes in boats. Lake Merritt, in the residential district overflowed. A tunnel by which an electric suburban system reaches a pier, was flooded and thousands of commuters were late to work in San Francisco. The city schools were closed.

And slides blocked the tracks of the Northwestern Pacific railroad in several places and trains were hours late. Wire service suffered everywhere.

In the Sacramento valley part of the town of Chico, including the plant of the Diamond Match company, was flooded by a cloudburst and schools in Sacramento were closed.

Traffic of the Western Pacific railroad in the Feather River canyon was impeded by slides which also affected the Sacramento valley lines of the Southern Pacific.

TWO BANDITS GET $3,000.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Two men entered the offices of St. Luke's hospital late today, pointed revolvers at Miss Mary Tobin, the cashier, and escaped with a tin box containing $3,000.

It was payday at the institution and the offices were crowded with nurses and other employees receiving their salary. The monthly payroll of the hospital amounts to $5,000 and about $2,000 had been paid to employees before the robbers entered.

The robbers made the thirty nurses in the room hold up their hands while they seized the cash box from the cashier and escaped in an automobile.

APPLICANTS ASK TO PRACTICE MEDICINE

Salt Lake, Jan. 4.—Four persons who want to practice medicine in Utah, one of them a woman and another a Japanese, are taking examinations before the state board of medical examiners.

The applicants sit in the board room at the capitol working away on their examination papers like the senior class in college the first week of June. Those taking the examination are Torow Ozasa, 233 West First South street; Miss Sallie E. McLeod, 80 D street; Charles L. P. resident physician at the L. D. S. hospital, and Clifford Ashby, a student physician at St. Mark's hospital.

Dr. G. F. Harding, secretary of the board of examiners, said it would be several days before the examinations were concluded and the board's decisions announced.

IRON JEWELRY WHEN GOLD IS SCARCE

Many months ago, almost from the beginning of the war, we were told that German women, following the example of their great grandmothers, voluntarily gave up their gold rings, necklets, earrings, bracelets and ornaments of every description to be made or coined into money for the national need.

Whatever truth there may be in this story, there is no doubt that many German women have been presented by the Government with iron rings of replace the gold ones they have parted with.

But that happened a century ago. Then Prussia, crushed by Napoleon and bankrupt, was in dire need of money, and the Prussian women gave up all their jewels and ornaments to help cope with the prevailing poverty. And out of this sacrifice a new industry arose.

This was nothing less than the manufacture of cast-iron jewelry to replace the gold and silver ornaments which the great ladies of the kingdom had dispensed. At first sight no material would seem less promising as a substitute for the precious metals than iron. It was entirely owing to the wonderful craftsmanship of the ironworkers that the result were so extraordinary.

Strength, of course, would be a distinguishing mark of such jewelry and a complete set of these iron ornaments, now in the possession of a Toronto jeweler, is as rigid and firm as on the day it was made. The particular set, comprising a pair of earrings, necklet, locket and bracelets, has not been looked after until lately.

The ornaments have a wonderfully fragile appearance, due entirely to the exquisite workmanship. Their weight, too, is astonishingly small, the lightness of every article being quite a feature of the set.—Answers.
